Description: Can Pipirimosca is an ecological farm in the countryside where agriculture, far from being the main objective, is the means that allows the organisation of cultural and associated activities. Operating as a farm allows self-sufficiency and the development of a sustainable lifestyle consistent with the environment where exchange, multiculturalism, coexistence and personal growth are the goals. The Can Pipirimosca project has taken place since 1998.

Work: You will experience sustainable living through the food consumed (no coffee). You will help maintain a shed next to the house where courses and workshops will be held in. Please note the work will be mostly physical.

Accommodation: Volunteers will stay in an on-site house designed for travellers - not tourists. A space open to everyone who wants to share, learn and teach. A place to connect with nature, the arts, music, theatre, dance. A chance to experience and better understand the concepts of coexistence, exchange and personal growth.

Location: Can Pipirimosca, near Tarragona
